Daniel,

Thanks for taking the time to meet with me Monday morning. I have been working on configuring a system that would work for your specific needs, and have hit several roadblocks.

At this time, we don't feel that we could provide an economical solution for you due to the associated costs of permitting and structural engineering for this configuration. Our current estimate is near $10/KW or $22,500 for this system, and that is still pending performing a Solametric Eye reading to determine if the production estimates that you have been given are accurate.

The costs would obviously diminish greatly if you were able to install a larger system, however that would require the removal of at least one of the large pine trees in the front of your home, which I understand is not according to your current plans.

I am sorry I don't have better news, but please keep us in mind if anything changes!

Best Regards,

Mike
